STATEWIDE TESTING PROGRAMS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

STATEWIDE TESTING PROGRAMS
1980-81

The information in this section provides the most recent test scores from the major statewide testing programs administered by the Evaluation, Assessment, and Testing Unit. Additionally, statewide data on the ACT and SAT testing programs are presented, although the administration of these testing programs is arranged by students directly with the testing company.

The following sections are included:

1. An Overview of Statewide Testing Programs
2. The Standardized Testing Program
3. The New Mexico High School Proficiency Exam
4. New Mexico Vocational Skills Evaluation Program
5. G.E.D. Summary Data
6. G.E.D. Diplomas by Test Centers
7. ACT and SAT Scores

Further information on any of these programs can be found in numerous reports prepared by Evaluation Unit staff members, including:

1. The New Mexico Standardized Testing Program Report,
2. The New Mexico High School Proficiency Examination Results, and
3. ACT and SAT Results.

The Unit also produces The New Mexico School District Profile, a district-by-district breakdown of demographic and test result data; How New Mexico Stacks Up in Education, which provides a demographic, educational, and financial overview of New Mexico and other Rocky Mountain States; and the New Mexico Dropout Study, which illustrates the dropout rate in this state, by grade level, district, and other variables.

All reports are available from the Evaluation, Assessment, and Testing Unit, State Department of Education, Education Building, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87503.

Vocational Skills Testing	As a result of information from multiple sources in the field, a moratorium was placed on the Vocational Education Testing Program for the 1980-81 school year. During the period of the moratorium, the State Department has undertaken the revision of the Vocational Education Tests. During the 1981-82 school year, the revised versions of the tests will be administered. The results of this administration will be utilized in finalizing the test instruments and will also be available to districts as an indication of student performance in each area tested.

STANDARDIZED TESTING PROGRAM

The New Mexico Standardized Testing Program was designed primarily to assess the achievement of all students in Grade 5, Grade 8, and Grade 11 (with the exception of some Special Education students) for the purpose of:

1. Highlighting educational areas for instructional improvement,
2. identifying local, as well as statewide, educational trends, and
3. providing longitudinal standardized test data for state and local program evaluation.

All 89 public school districts participated in the 1980-81 Standardized Testing Program. The Comprehensive Tests of Basic Skills, Form S (CTBS/S), a standardized norm-referenced test, was selected to measure educational achievement in the basic skill areas of Reading, Language, Mathematics, Reference Skills, Science, and Social Studies. The CTBS/S was administered to 18,747 students in Grade 5; 18,276 students in Grade 8; and 17,443 students in Grade 11. A total of 54,466 students were given the CTBS/S tests in the Spring of 1981.

The 1981 CTBS statewide results indicate that all New Mexico students in Grades 5, 8, and 11, scored above the national median percentile in Science. Fifth graders scored at or above the national median percentile in all skill areas except in Spelling. Eighth graders scored slightly above to slightly below the national median percentile, scoring somewhat lower than the fifth graders. In general, eleventh graders scored below the national median percentile except in Science and Social Studies which were at or slightly above the national median, see Figure 1.

Figure 2 presents the percent of New Mexico 5th, 8th, and 11th graders scoring in each National quartile for Reading, Language, Mathematics, and Battery Totals. At the fifth grade level, a higher percentage of students fall into the upper two quartiles than in the lower quartiles, while at the eighth grade level, with the exception of the Mathematics score, the students are represented more equally in the upper and lower quartiles. At the eleventh grade level, a greater percent of students ranked in the lower quartiles.

For further detailed statistics and analysis, refer to the New Mexico Standardized Testing Program Report, published by the Evaluation, Assessment, and Testing Unit, State Department of Education.

NEW MEXICO HIGH SCHOOL PROFICIENCY EXAMINATION
FORM NM4 - 1980-81

The New Mexico High School Proficiency Examination consists of test items which have been developed to assess the following Skill Areas: Identification of Facts and Terms, Reading, Writing, Computation, and Problem Solving. These five skill areas are assessed in the context of the following Content Areas: Community Resources, Consumer Economics, Government and Law, Occupational Knowledge and Health.

Table 1
New Mexico High School Proficiency Examination
Summary Information 1980-81

Number of students tested.	25,749
(Includes grades ten, eleven and twelve)
Total number of scorable answer sheets	24,927
Total number of unscorable answer sheets	822
(Response to a minimum of ten (10) items was required for a scorable answer sheet)
Total number/percent students passing.	21,355/84%
Total number/percent students failing.	4,394/16%
(Includes 822 unscorable answer sheets)

Review of examination results reveals that most students (approximately 88%) attain a passing score on their first attempt at the Proficiency Examination in the tenth grade. Approximately seventy-five percent attain a passing score on their second attempt, and approximately eighty-one percent are successful on their third attempt. The second and third attempts occur at the eleventh and twelfth grades respectively.

Performance Percentages by Basic Skill

The results reported in Figure 1 show relatively stable performance in all Skill Areas with the exception of "Computation" which continues to be the lowest performance area for students.

Performance Percentages by Content Area

Based on the results it is observed that modest performance gains were made over the previous year in all Content Areas. The Government and Law area continues to be the lowest area.

SUMMARY OF GENERAL EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT
(G.E.D.) TESTING, 1980

Basic Facts	State	National
Number tested for first time	5,855	634,164
Pass Rate (%)	75.6	70.6
Number of Diplomas Issued	5,265*	499,925
Average Schooling Level (Grade)	10.0	10.0
Average Age (Years)	23.4	25.1

The General Educational Development Test (G.E.D.) is primarily used to appraise the educational development of adults who have not completed their formal high school education. The G.E.D. Testing Program operates in accordance with State Board of Education Regulation No. 80-12, and national policies as established by the Commission on Educational Credit and Credentials (OECC) of the American Council of Education (ACE). Candidates who successfully complete the battery of tests receive a New Mexico High School Diploma.

The G.E.D. Battery consists of five tests: Writing Skills (80 items, 75 minutes); Social Studies (60 items, 90 minutes); Science (60 items, 90 minutes); Reading Skills (40 items, 60 minutes); and Mathematics (50 items, 90 minutes). These tests are designed to measure as directly as possible, the major generalizations, ideas, and intellectual skills that are the outcome of four years of high school programs of instruction.

In general, the following are requirements for issuance of a diploma. A candidate must obtain a standard score of 40 on each of the five tests, or an average standard score of 50 on all five tests. He/she must be a resident of the state of New Mexico, and be 17 years old. However, if the individual meets the age requirement but his/her high school class has not graduated, the candidate cannot receive his/her diploma until graduation occurs.

New Mexico has a very high percentage of G.E.D. candidates who are 19 years of age or under for a total of 50.7%, the second highest in the country. The national average is 36.9% for the same age group.

The number of diplomas issued in 1980 was 5,265 as compared to 5,656 in 1979.

The American College Test (ACT) and the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) are the two major standardized tests used to provide an indication of how well an individual student may be expected to perform in the collegiate academic arena. It should be noted that the tests do not attempt to measure innate intelligence nor do they stress specific factual knowledge. The ACT battery contains four multiple choice tests in the areas of English usage, mathematics usage, social studies reading, and natural sciences reading. Scale scores on each of these tests range from one to thirty-six. Scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test, which has two areas - verbal and mathematical - are reported on a scale of 200 to 800.

* = Includes cost of Regular, Special and Kindergarten transportation.

 = Per Capita Feeders removed

 = Since New Mexico has many isolated, rural areas, statutes provide for reimbursement to parents on a per capita basis to meet school buses where "regular school bus service is impractical because of distance, road conditions, or the sparseness of population." A total of 1,692 pupils were transported, with a daily mileage of $19,135.9 and a cost of $705,704.15.

Adult Basic Education

I. Overview of Purpose

It is the purpose of Adult Basic Education to expand educational opportunities for all adults over 16 years of age who have not completed the 12th grade or whose level of achievement is below that which is deemed necessary to successfully function in society.

The objectives of Adult Basic Education are to:

A. Assist adults to acquire skills necessary to function in society.

B. Assist adults in their efforts to complete all requirements for a New Mexico high school diploma.

C. Assist non-English speaking adults to acquire basic communication skills in the English language.

D. Assist adults to reach a level of competence which will enable them to succeed in vocational training or other avenues of post-secondary education.

II. Cycles

As provided in the Adult Education Act (P.L. 91-230 and P.L. 95-561) and in the New Mexico State Plan, agencies or individuals requesting funding for the establishment of an Adult Basic Education program, must submit a proposal for each year of funding. A proposal format with instructions and criteria for approval is made available by August 1 of each year. Proposals for projects beginning July 1 of the following year must be submitted by October 31 of the preceeding year.

In addition, a minimum of ten percent of the federal grant award must be set aside for special research and/or staff,development projects each year. Again, interested agencies or individuals are required to submit a proposal by April 1 prior to the project year beginning July 1. The proposal format and criteria for approval are made available by February 1 of the same year.

III. Data

Most recent estimates indicate that there are approximately 300,000 adults in New Mexico who have not completed requirements for a certificate of high school graduation. Approximately 19% or 57,000 adults may be classified as illiterate; 34% or 102,000 as functional illiterate and the remaining 47% or 141,000 as adults who do not have a high school diploma in order to qualify for vocational training or employment upgrading.

IV. Interaction with SDE

Adult Basic Education funds are made available to both public schools and post-secondary institutions. In most instances, projects are located within area vocational schools, technical-vocational institutions and branch colleges. In areas where post-secondary institutions are not available, services are provided by the local public schools. Post-secondary institutions have recognized Adult Basic Education as an integral part of their total operation. Many of the students who participate in the ABE program, continue their training by enrolling in vocational training programs. In addition, the ABE lab works closely with various vocational training programs by providing supportive instructional services which will enable the students to succeed in their vocational training efforts.

V. Achievements 68th and 69th Fiscal Years

		1979-80	1980-81

*J.	Number of Adults Who Received A High School Diploma After Receiving Counseling and Testing Services From the Local ABE Center	3,327	2,750

*These individuals are not counted in the total ABE enrollment. However, pretesting and counseling services are made available. If it is determined that an individual is ready to challenge the GED exam without attending ABE classes, he or she is referred directly to the local GED Testing Center. Since no records are maintained for these individuals, the above figures represent an estimate based on the total number of GED diplomas issued during the year.

VI. Characteristics of Population Served

A. Sex - 55% women - 45% men

B. Age - 15% between 16 & 20
70% between 21 & 50
15% over 50

C. Ethnic - Hispanic - 50%
Indian - 10%
Black - 2%
Asian - 7%
Anglo - 31%

VII. Future Needs, Changes

Based on the estimated number of adults who do not have a high school diploma, Adult Basic Education is providing services for approximately 5% each year. Assuming that public school dropout rates and the state population growth continues at the same level, it remains the challenge of the state ABE program to expand services throughout the state so that every adult in need will have access to the services provided.
